

Quiz: Flask Setup

Reset Quiz

By Brandon Gigous

Question 1 of 7

I created the folder structure. Then, in my `projects` folder on my computer, I made a local git repo by typing:

```
git init flask-webdev
```

True

False

You're a scholar!

Previous QuestionNext Question

Quiz: Flask Setup

Reset Quiz

By Brandon Gigous

Question 2 of 7

I have an account in Github and I made a repository called "flask-webdev"

True

False

You're so smart!

Previous QuestionNext Question

Quiz: Flask Setup

Reset Quiz

By Brandon Gigous

Question 3 of 7

After I made my Github repo, I connected my local `flask-webdev` git repository to my Github repository using:

```
git remote add origin https://github.com/<YOUR GITHUB USERNAME>/flask-webdev.git
```

True

False

You're a wizard!

Quiz: Flask Setup

Reset Quiz

By Brandon Gigous

Question 4 of 7

I created my virtual environment in my `flask-webdev` folder with:

```
python3 -m venv env
```

True

False

You're unbeatable!

Previous Question

Next Question

Quiz: Flask Setup

Reset Quiz

By Brandon Gigous

Question 5 of 7

I activated my newly created virtual environment by running the `source env/bin/activate` command from within my `flask-webdev` folder.

True

False

You're a natural!

Previous QuestionNext Question

Quiz: Flask Setup

Reset Quiz

By Brandon Gigous

Question 6 of 7

Once I activated my virtual environment and could see `(env)` at the beginning of my command line, I installed Flask with:

```
pip install flask
```

True

False

You're a virtuoso!

Quiz: Flask Setup

Reset Quiz

By Brandon Gigous

Question 7 of 7

I tested my Flask installation by typing `python` to bring up the Python interpreter, then I typed `import flask`, pressed Enter, and had no errors

True

False

You're a pro!